14,000 NEW CARS AND TRUCKS A MONTH IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The booming prosperity of Southern California doesn't just happen. It's the inevitable product of the Southern Californian himself — of his enthusiasm and practical imagination, his judgment and quick execution.

The merchant of automobile row is a fair example.

He has increased his business this year over last by nearly 100%; the present average for Southern California is 14,000 new cars and trucks a month!

What's going into the fuel tanks of all these new cars? "Red Crown," if it's an experienced motorist at the wheel.

On the road where forty kinds of gasoline are offered to choose from, experience has again and again shown him that for action there's one to be counted upon always. That's "Red Crown" — for many years the dependable standard, the chosen Economy Run Gasoline of the Pacific Coast.

There's never any doubt about its quick starting, pick-up, power or mileage.

Look for the "Red Crown" sign.

ALTADENA VISTA IS HUMMING ALONG AT LIVELY RATE

Everything is humming along at Altadena Vista, that wonderful foothill tract lying just north of the city by that name. Last Sunday a large number of homesites in that tract were disposed of. The number of "prospects" who are intensely interested in the tract is growing, and daily these people, who realize the value of Altadena Vista as a home tract, are making purchases of lots.

All around this tract there is activity. Homes are being constructed and many others are being planned, all of which makes the sites in this tract of unusual value.

Quite a few of the buyers in this tract are now having plans drawn for homes they will construct in the very near future. One of these is a prominent banker of Glendale, who expects within a week or so to begin the construction of a home to cost at least $25,000. The restrictions in this tract are $5000, but the lot buyers who intend to build at once are disregarding this figure and are planning homes far in excess of this figure.

That this tract is extremely desirable for home purposes is shown by the fact that Guy Bates Post, the prominent actor, has established his permanent home just a short distance from the tract. Other celebrities are now living in that section or are planning to do so.

One-third of the lots in this tract are sold and those who are hoping to secure homesites in this valuable subdivision should do so at once. Lot prices range from $1300 to $3000.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

Stuart J. Flintham, fire warden of Los Angeles county has notified his assistants to issue no permits for burning brush until further notice. C. Jennings Young, assistant fire warden for this district, states all open fires, however small, are prohibited and any one disobeying these orders will be subject to a heavy fine.

Miss Margaret Brown of West Montrose avenue was a charming hostess to the Girl Scouts and their captain, Mrs. Jessie Hanson. The affair was in the way of a surprise to their efficient captain, who was presented with a gift as a token of appreciation for her splendid work with the local organization. Those present were Misses Mary Ann Howard, Helen Mead, Mildred Maranville, and Fannie Clark of Montrose; Helen Haskins, Helen Fisher, Dorothy Potter, Thelma and Virginia Fahy, Irene Murdoch, Charlotte Foy and Mrs. Jessie Hanson of La Crescenta. Miss Brown was assisted by her mother, Mrs. T. S. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Quimby and daughters were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Armstrong of 147 East Mayfield avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Potter entertained their cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Micks and family of Elkhart, Indiana, yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Micks, like many easterners, are planning to make California their permanent home.

The opening of the Highway Highlands subdivision on West Michigan avenue, last Sunday, attracted a large number of buyers. M. S. Collins, F. H. Anderson and R. L. MacBroom, owners of this subdivision, report $55,000 worth of property was sold during the day, which included 36 lots, 30 of these being located on the state highway. Equally as successful was the sale of home sites in the Burton Heights subdivision on Pennsylvania avenue last Sunday when over six hundred people from Glendale, Pasadena and the surrounding territory were guests of Wilson & Burton and Twining & Myers, owners and subdividers, at a barbecue. Many selected a home site and will build their homes in this tract. More than half of this tract has been sold.

A committee was appointed to purchase Christmas presents for the orphans and widows connected with the Druids.

WILLARD AND GRACE LEARNED WRITE FROM AFRICA

A letter came recently from Willard and Grace Learned, who are on the way to a mission field on the Congo river in Africa. The letter was dated November 13 and was written and mailed at Casa Blanca, Africa, where their steamer touched to unload some freight. This was the first sight of Africa they had. They are probably now making their way up the Congo to Bolengi, 700 miles from the mouth of that mighty stream, where the mission station is located. They will be sent from there to their point of work, which will probably be 3000 miles or more on up the Congo, which can be navigated for that distance by the little steamer Oregon, which has proved of invaluable worth to the missionaries since it was sent out there by members of the Christian churches of the state for which it was named.

HAWAII'S ALIEN SCHOOL ACT TO SUPREME COURT

[By Associated Press] HONOLULU, Dec. 18—All the points at issue in the present legal controversy over the right of the territory to regulate or limit the activities of alien language schools in Hawaii may be presented to the United States supreme court for final decision in the near future, it has been indicated by territorial attorney general John A. Mathewman.

The principal question involved is whether the territory has the right to close, either in whole or part, a foreign language school. One of the laws being questioned provides for the complete elimination of the first and second grades in such schools. Another question concerns the right of the territory to tax the schools one dollar annually for each pupil enrolled. A third point is whether the territory has the right to require foreign language school teachers to pass an examination in the English language. Suits based on all three questions are pending in the courts here.

FAMED IRISH TENOR WILL SING FOR MUSIC CLUB

There is considerable enthusiasm in the musical circles of Glendale over the coming appearance in concert under the auspices of the Glendale Music club, of Allen McQuhae, Irish tenor, who has created quite a sensation with his singing in the east. Mr. McQuhae's programs are noted for the versatility they require in the art of interpretation, for they run from the simplest of melodies to the elaborate structures of the master song writers and to the exotic outpourings of the ultra-modernists.

Sings who fall nowadays to put on their recital programmes some folk songs are woefully behind the times. There must be Irish songs, or Scotch songs, or English songs, or songs from France, Spain, Russia, Tehecko-Slovakia, China, India or Timbuctoo in order to break away from what is called "the conventional routine." Anybody who can sing, can sing these songs after a fashion, but the real singer of such songs must be of the country whence they come, for then they are of his blood and he approaches them with a love and sympathy quite out of the power of a singer of a different race. Thus can Gogorza sing the songs of Spain, Torpade the songs of Scandinavia, Gauthier the songs of the French-Canadian voyageurs.

And, as for the songs of Ireland, those lovely melodies, plaintive or merry, yet reeking with the atmosphere of the country, it takes an Irishman really to sing them, and of Irishmen who do, there is said to be no one who can sing them more sweetly, drive them more deeply into the hearts of the hearers than young Allen McQuhae, who is to be heard in Glendale on Friday evening, January 11. He is a native of County Wicklow in the south of Ireland where all these songs are sung in the cottages of the peasants. He has a rare tenor voice which seems to be one of those found only in the south of Ireland, rare in its sweetness and mellow richness and its sympathetic appeal. It is said that he knows how best to make use of all his gifts and understands the art of sending home the message of the song. Of the younger generation of singers none is said to have shown greater promise than this young Irishman. Mr. McQuhae is not limited to the singing of songs of his country. He is excellent in oratorio and with orchestra. His voice lends itself gratefully to the singing of the long, flowing lines of the music of Mozart, Handel and Haydn, the most difficult of all music to sing well.

Christmas membership in the Glendale Music club, which entitles the recipient to admission to the five concerts, beginning with January, are selling rapidly at $4. These are on sale at the music stores and also at the Glendale Book store.

EUTERPE CLUB MEETS WITH MISS ISABEL ELLIOTT

Regular meeting of the Euterpe club was held recently at the home of Miss Isabel Elliott, 624 East Colorado street. After a short business meeting in charge of the president, Maxine Heasley, an interesting program was given, including piano selections by Isabel Elliott, Beatrice Smith, Cleone Barton and Madeline Smith. Polly Heasley read a paper on "Handel." At the close of the evening Mrs. Elliott served delicious refreshments. The next meeting of the club will be held in January at the home of Phyllis Forrester.

BAPTIST CHURCH WILL HAVE YULE TIDE EXERCISES

The Christmas exercises of the First Baptist Sunday school of Glendale will be held in the auditorium of that church, corner Louise and Wilson, Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. A very pleasing program has been arranged and will be delivered by the children of the school. There will be a Christmas tree and Santa Claus will be on hand to cheer the hearts of the little folks. Gifts will be given to all the children who attend.

Next Sunday will be Christmas Sunday at this church. Special sermons will be preached both morning and evening and at the morning service an effort to bring the building fund up to date will be made. This will be in the form of a "gift to the king" service.

On Sunday evening the church choir will render a Christmas cantata. For weeks this body of singers has been working on this piece, which, it is expected, will be the finest thing of the year. All of these services will be open to the public and will be entirely free.

Truths in Epigram

A rich man without charity is a rogue; and perhaps it would be no difficult matter to prove that he also is a fool.

Fielding. Do not call that man wretched who, whatever ill he suffers, has a child to love.—Southey. Gossip pretending to have the eyes of an argus, has all the blindness of the bat.—Onida.

ROASTING THE JURY

Recently in the superior court a young man was on trial for a grave statutory offense. Nine of the jurors held that he was innocent. The three that believed him guilty could not be convinced. So a compromise by which defendant was found guilty of simple assault was agreed upon. This verdict was rejected by the court, the jury rebuked in scathing terms, and the prisoner set free, his bail being exonerated. The verdict was illegal. The course of the nine in being willing to condemn in any measure, a defendant whom they deemed innocent, was an act of cowardice. For this the gentleman on the bench may be quoted. The jury wanted to get away, so it discarded all consideration for the law or the facts.

It is not infrequent for comment concerning some jury to take on the tone of disapproval. It is less common for the court itself to take up the task, but when the court does this, it is with authority. Perhaps juries are not so much to blame. Stupidity is a misfortune, and the jury procedure involves the acquisition of a stupid dozen for the jury box. To sift out and reject intelligence, while considering the lack of intelligence a sign of fitness, does not tend to elevate the mental tone of the completed jury.

If men and women of character and poise were selected for jury duty, there would be a better chance for justice to be upheld. Of course, such jurors do get into the box, but not enough of them to lift the average to the level of mentality at which sound reasoning is to be expected.

WORLD COURT AND LEAGUE

Senator Lodge says that he is thoroughly in favor of a World Court, but desires that it be not involved in any way in the League of Nations. This seems in consonance with the idea of the late President Harding, and also of President Coolidge. It therefore is very safe ground for Senator Lodge. But good taste might suggest that whatever the gentleman from Massachusetts may think about the court plan, that he touch lightly upon the league. He fought the latter, it is true, and his present attitude is consistent with that he took when the matter was an issue. Prior to that time, however, he had expressed himself as in favor of exactly the principle of the League of Nations. It was possible to quote from him in support of the project, statements at least as strong as later he made against it. Therefore the subject would not seem to be an inviting theme for present discourse by the learned senator.

The utter distinction between the thought inspiring a league and that inspiring a court, is difficult for some to make. Indeed, to many, the underlying character of the two is identical. Each is an effort to cause the nations to function amicably, and in concert, for the upholding of justice by peaceful means. Behind these means there must be force enough to render decisions effective. The league as planned, would have gone farther than the court, but in the same direction.

Many who really favored the league, but for party reasons declined to commit themselves to it, favor the court. They proclaim a vast difference which observers fail to discern. By proclaiming this difference, however, they are enabled to support the principle they always desired to support, and at the same time "save their faces," a most favored operation of the politician.

PERILOUS HIGHWAYS

In a single night bandits robbed a score of automobile parties on the Ridge route between Los Angeles and Bakersfield. This is a highway maintained by the state. It is part of the main thoroughfare between the north and the south ends. That it is not safe for passage because infested by robbers is a shameful circumstance. The condition calls for immediate remedy. Authority has reached a queer status if unable to banish the thugs and thieves making open war upon the public. A traveler on the road should be safe from molestation; such safety is his right, and until recently the enjoyment of it has been an unquestioned privilege.

Formerly it seemed odd to realize that a sojourner in the Orient, chancing to stray from his caravan, was instantly set upon by larcenous ruffians, and perhaps murdered; assuredly stripped of all his possessions. No American dreamed that an analogous situation ever was to be found in his own country. Such a condition has been found. It is here. It exists as a peril and as a disgrace. The traveler over a much used road is likely to encounter the leveled weapon of a brigand at any turn. This is in populous California, 1923 A. D.

That something will have to be done about it nobody will question. Horse thieves flourished in a earlier and supposedly cruder day, but a method was devised for dealing with them. Perhaps it would be well to pay a bounty on the scalps of highwaymen. It is done as to coyotes, a finer type of life than the thug who lurks in the shadows awaiting his victims. It is high time for a war of extermination upon these prowling and murderous vagabonds. If the authorities are unequal to the task, the public will be obliged to organize for its own protection, employing a system as rigorous as that which discouraged the horse thief of an earlier day.

PLEAS FOR CHEAP LABOR

Certain industrial enterprises, involving large capital, are anxious to have gates opened wide to the immigrant. They have no thought for the intelligence, the morals, or the ultimate possibility of citizenship. All they want is an ample supply of the laboring class capable of menial work, and aspiring no higher. To the plea of these concerns is added now a plea on behalf of the farmer. "Farms as well as factories have been denuded of cheap labor," says the spokesman supposed to represent agriculture, "and so have been injured seriously."

There is a broader view to take. The real question is as to the quality of material to be admitted. The effect on the social structure is far more worthy of consideration than the wishes of any group. The absence of cheap labor is not to be ascribed to the lack of immigrants due to restrictions already in force. Cheap labor vanished as an incident of economic upheaval growing out of the war. Wages that once might have been sufficient, because then they assured a decent living, would now be inadequate. Out of them the toiler could not pay for food, clothing and shelter. He could not keep up a home. Such an influx of alien labor as might force wages back to the former scale, would be a disaster.

There are many phases of the situation that, in importance, come before the subject of wages. The question is as to the character of the people who are knocking at the gates. It may be that they lack the qualities that might permit them to become good citizens. They may even lack all that would make it safe to harbor them as aliens. Men who hate law, and who bring their hatreds with them; who intend here to agitate for overthrow of authority; others, who are so ignorant that their habits of thought cannot change, but who, foregrounding with fellow-nationals here, exist in an atmosphere as foreign to American spirit as though they never had left the land of their birth, are not wanted. No condition of the labor market could make them wanted.

Selected men and women, coming to this country in the hope of being received into its citizenship in time, willing to learn of its institutions, to adopt its standards, naturally will be welcomed. Against the stupid, the vicious and the chronic malcontent, the gates should be shut.

When news was published that the rebel army was within seventy-five miles of the Mexican capital, the general impression was that out of regard for its own safety it would be wise not to lessen that distance.

The lack of money is the root of much evil.

The Instinct for Perfection

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Every so often somebody smites his typewriter and causes it to gush forth a paen to genius and an explanation of its manifestations.

The latest genius to set typewriters to groaning is a painter of portraits, Cecilia Beaux, whose work stands out for its exquisite perfection in detail. She has had so little training that critics speak of her achievements with awe; but she herself has given an explanation of her work which is at once so simple and so convincing that one wonders if she has not in it touched the very essence of genius.

In brief she attributes her success is an instinct for perfection, not only in art but in everything which she does. What a beautiful quality, an instinct for perfection, a soul that can never take refuge in second best, a spirit which steadily refuses to accept anything just because "it will do."

The person who has an instinct for perfection keeps himself and his actions always under review before his own critical powers. Life to such a one becomes a daily military drill where the best only is accepted and where the worker is at once the student and the critic.

Which reminds me that I have often noticed that navy officers as a rule write beautiful hands. This is no accident but a by-product of their daily and hourly discipline and the strength and judgment that results from it.

It's a far cry from the navy to millinery; but the instinct for perfection may operate just as freely through the finger tips as in a gun drill.

Once I watched a society woman making a hat with such attention to exquisite detail that I ventured: "In what school did you study millinery?"

She was not offended as many foolish women would have been. She merely looked up sweetly and said:

"I never studied at all; but it's my pride to do everything that I do as perfectly as possible. How do I know that some day I may not have to make my living by trimming hats for other people. Well, if I did would I not make a better living if I could make beautiful hats beautifully?"

Incidentally this instinct for perfection colored everything that this society woman did and through it she became a natural leader.

Genius may after all be nothing more than the ability to see correctly plus the will to accept nothing less from yourself but perfection. Anyhow, it's worth thinking over, this instinct for perfection.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Class Montgomery was been mixing with the bottom middle and upper crusts in Europe lately, and, like every other man who visits Europe, the pen-complex has gripped him. He has been writing about what he saw and felt and heard. "It is an odd fact," he wrote, "that most of the drunken men I've seen in Europe have been Americans. The native-born stick to their native wines and beers. We Americans, raised on a diet of raw whisky, get plee-eyed where the native-born experience only a mild stimulation."

Chass didn't know that his admiring friends would have his letters published or he might have been more cautious. For in the next paragraph he says that he never felt better in his life than during the months in which he has been chambering a round bottle of dark wine with each meal.

"When I get back home, ding it," says he, "I suppose I'll go back to drinking hooch. I know it is ruinous. I'm sorry our folks didn't have gumption enough to outlaw the saloon and keep fine, healthful drinks in circulation. But as hooch is the only thing I can get, I suppose I'll drink it." Chass is under fire. Every reformer in our town has taken a wallop at Chass, and most of 'em have concentrated on his admission that he will violate the law by drinking hooch when he comes home. They have not debated his assertions. Maybe more Americans get drunk in Europe, proportionately, than Europeans do. Maybe beer and wine are healthful and maybe they are not. But the reformers have shot their arrows at Chass because he admits he will violate the law when he comes home.

That's the trouble with some reformers, it seems to me. They are not as anxious to have a question properly settled as to have it settled their way.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

Another year.

A few more days and it has passed. A year is a long or a short time depending on how you look at it.

Ordinarily it is about a sixtieth or seventieth of a lifetime.

Sometimes it is a twentieth or thirtieth of a lifetime.

For people do not always live the allotted three score and ten.

Comparatively few of them do.

So in the course of any life time a year is a long time.

In the course of human events a year is not as long.

Geologically, a year is so little a time as to be hardly calculable.

What is a year in a geological epoch? Which may be millions of years.

Time is a relative thing.

Our emotions and impressions have much to do with it.

A year in prison is an eternity.

A year of globe trotting passes quickly.

Ten minutes in a hammock with a book is a short time.

Ten minutes on a red hot stove is an eternity.

But every year is important.

It is like the trip, trip, trip of the hammer.

One blow does not accomplish the whole purpose.

But a succession of blows drives the stake, or clinches the red hot rivet.

It is the continuity of effort that counts.

Not the single and spasmodic force.

The lion might not be able to break the ropes with which he is bound at a single great effort.

But the mouse with a succession of nibblings could gnaw it in two.

So at the end of the year it is well to look back and see what has been added to the treasure of human life.

Of the individual life.

What achievements have been ours.

How far we have advanced.

For we have advanced or we have fallen back.

None of us have stood still.

If we have advanced, well and good.

And let us advance further.

If we have fallen back, let us call a halt.

And start on the forward track.

What we will do can be done.

We can check the slipping downward.

Take a deep breath.

Make a high resolve.

And go forward again.

Remember that never until life has gone from us it is too late to start on the upgrade.

That is a very good thing to know.

We are never defeated until we admit it.

No matter what evils we have brought upon ourselves.

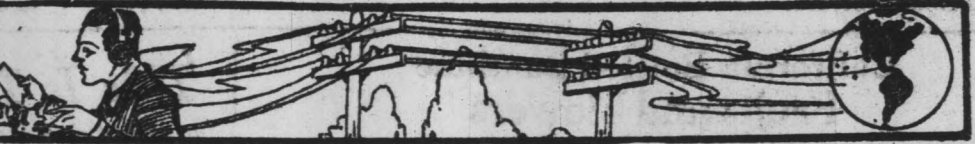

No matter what people may say.

No matter what the world thinks of us.

We can conquer it all and overcome it all and go forward if we will.

So it is a good thing to take stock of the past year and make a high resolve for the new one.

NOW.

Song—By Robert Browning

Nay but you, who do not love her,
Is she not pure gold, my mistress?
Holds earth aught—speak truth—above her?
Aught like this tress, see, and this tress,
And this last fairest tress of all,
So fair, see, ere I let it fall?

Because you spend your lives in praising:
To praise, you search the wide world over:
Then why not witness, calmly gazing,
If earth holds aught—speak truth—above
her?
Above this tress, and this, I touch
But cannot praise, I love so much!

SOUL COMPOUNDS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

IN OMAR'S poem he says there was a little talk awhile of Thee and Me, and then no more of Thee and Me. We enter this world as separate personalities, hard and irreducible individuals; our life's problem is to combine with others.

Happiness lies only in soul-compounds. As we approach we glow, and we recede we grow cold and dead.

The highest joy is love which is, "a man and a woman melted into one being," as Victor Hugo says.

Every new friendship gives, the soul a new chemical substance, with a new flavor and odor, differing from those of either of the ingredient persons.

Even in solitude high souls have been made unable to realize happiness, and so we must think of God as sharing it.

An invisible companion to share our emotions is so essential to virtue that Voltaire said that "if there were no God it would be necessary to invent one."

The two acts, giving and forgiving, are symbols of spirit-union.

When you give you do not deny your right of property, you emphasize. When you forgive, you do not lower, but raise your self esteem.

This is the mystery of souls, that we find ourselves only as we give ourselves to another. There is a deal of confused thinking on this subject.

Some say that our soul motive is selfishness and that even when we appear to do good to another, it is for the sake of the glow of our own satisfaction.

There may be something in this, but it is capricious reasoning. For the highest selfishness is unselfishness. There has no way been discovered among men to become happy that is so sure as to make other people happy.

No soul really finds itself until it has gone out and found itself in another soul.

By one's self, one is dead and cold. It is only when one finds another that the spark of life flashes. The self is only part of a possible compound—neither oxygen nor hydrogen can be of such value to men as when the two have combined to create water.

So the significance of our whole life consists in its compounds.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

A man was taken to the hospital after drinking liquor from the gutter. Clearly a case of mistaken judgment. He should have been taken to the garbage dump.

When two handsome and husky young women disappear simultaneously, the theory of kidnapping hardly is tenable.

There is a natural inclination to wonder what interest is financing the Mexican revolt.

It is true that David danced before the king, but the affair did not come off after midnight.

"Hearst Envoy Urges Soviet Recognition." The Examiner. Precisely because he was this sort of envoy nobody cares what he may urge.

An Austrian who won a Nobel prize for chemistry must pay 75 per cent of it in taxes. An appreciative country ought to have been satisfied with a fifty-fifty split.

Agitators favoring the Mexican revolution have no business loafing around southern California. Let them cross the line and give the firing squad a chance.

There is a general desire to have justice done towards the Indian, but a singular official incapacity for doing it.

Opening of oil fields in northern California must add to the annoyance of the gentlemen already grumbling about over-production.

To make such immigration laws as would keep undesirable out should not be beyond the power of statesmanship.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

HARDING'S GREATEST MONUMENT

(Vancouver Sun)

Devoted friends of Warren Gamaliel Harding will raise $3,000,000 by subscription to perpetuate the memory of the only American President who ever spoke on Canadian soil. Half of that sum will be spent on a mausoleum and shrine at Marion, Ohio. The other $1,500,000 will be invested to keep these buildings up forever.

It is a good, wholesome project, and Canadians who can afford it should subscribe liberally in the name of Canadian-American friendship, of which Harding was a champion. But this $1,500,000 mausoleum will only be a poor imitation of the shrine-Warren Harding erected for himself in Vancouver last July.

No monument can be erected now that will equal in stability, force and appeal the picture that thousands of Canadians carry in their memories of this great, generous man, destined so soon for the grave, stretching out both his arms in love and friendship to the Canadian people in the leafy paradise of Stanley Park.

The new sense of international amity engendered that day in Vancouver and spread by word of mouth and the press to every corner of the North American continent, is Warren Gamaliel Harding's most beautiful, most useful and most lasting monument.

And if the loving friends who would perpetuate his memory seek an inscription for the beautiful shrine they will erect to him they will find no truer than this:

"Here is a man who one summer's day drew two nations closer together in friendship, trust and esteem than any two nations have ever been drawn before."

AN ATCHISON IDEA

Why not organize a Coolidge club, not for political purposes, but with the view of encouraging more people to keep their mouths shut?

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The head of the English department at Yale is William Lyon Phelps. A letter recently received by a resident of Pasadena from the eminent educator, gave no hint as to the identity of the writer. There was a signature, but it was a meaningless scrawl. By no accident, and scarcely by the acumen of an expert, could it be construed as the name it was intended to represent. There was a possibility of rendering the series of wobbles as "W. Liquidbeer," manifestly an error. Happily the stationary revealed the secret that the pen had hidden.

A school child is instructed to write legibly, and rebuked for failure to do so. If incapable of writing its signature clearly, it would be regarded as a dub. The psychologists would get after it with their charts, and it would come through the ordeal credited with the intellect of a piling infant. Yet a great man, attached to a great institution of learning, scratches as a signature, a tangle of meaningless curves and loops, and seems to get away with it.

To send to a correspondent a letter bearing a signature that cannot be deciphered, does not seem to be the nicest of courtesies. It is true that since introduction of the mechanical typewriter, and the custom of dictating, chirography is, to many, almost a lost art. However, any grown up person ought to be able to write his own name, even if this be the limit of his attainment with the pen.

Modestly appears a college professor to remark complacently that in about one hundred years there will not be room enough in the world to give footing to all the people. Therefore will arise the necessity for putting the superfluous out of the way, painlessly, of course. Naturally the aged will have to go, together with the lame, halt and blind. Hospitals could be emptied and converted into lodgings for the hale and useful of the race.

In the procession passing into the unknown, it is to be hoped there shall be a sprinkling of professors who advance fool theories.

There is nothing new in the conclusion of this dyspeptic mathematician. It was old long before he had committed the error of being born. Its soundness can be demonstrated by figures, which are, contrary to a common notion, the most awful liars known to the erudite.

For quite awhile now the country is likely to be deluged with reports of Hearst's emissaries to Russia. They were sent to that country at the editor's expense to get the information he desired. The fact that their research was to be under such auspices rendered absolutely negligible in advance any reports that might be made by them.

While there is a general desire to know the truth about Russia, the portrayal of it as a land of love, liberty, laughter and light, is not to be mistaken for a picture of the reality.

There has been an oil strike near San Francisco. The fact is somewhat disturbing. Experts had figured out the early exhaustion of supply, preceded by what they termed the "end of over-production." The abundance of oil, making gasoline so accessible to the owner of the humble flivver, has seemed to be a grievance to these experts. They were looking forward to the time of restricted output and high prices.

The San Francisco well may not be a world-beater. But it shows that there is oil in places where its presence had not been figured upon. The globe still has large areas not minutely explored. What these contain of oil or other staple, the future must make known.

Chicago is stirred a little over the disappearance of a promoter of exceeding smoothness. He seems to have taken with him a sum running into the millions. All of it had been garnered from credulous folk who were under the impression that they were about to get something for nothing. Such an achievement is beyond the ordinary investor. Once in awhile the promoter seems to reach it, but he doesn't hold on to it long.

This Chicago chap, with his stolen millions, is more unhappy than the most disconsolate of his dupees.

Because a type of human being has been found who will drink condemned liquor poured into the gutter, this disposition of the stuff is to cease. Perhaps this is the humane course. However, to let the gutter rat drink his fill and then tumble into the poisonous stream, would be a policy not without advantages.

There has been an effort to create the suspicion that one Kels under sentence for a particularly bestial murder is insane. The effort has not quite failed. It was nothing but a part of the regular program in such cases to retard justice or bring about its defeat.

Of twelve women examined for jury duty in San Francisco, only one expressed herself as opposed to capital punishment. Of the masculine talismen more than half admitted such a prejudice. From this somebody has deduced hastily the conclusion that the "female of the species is more deadly than the male." The justice of such conclusion is not confirmed.

It may be simply that the women were more honest. Many a man has lied himself out of jury duty. In this case the defendant was a handsome young woman. A man might not hesitate to inflict the death penalty on one of his own sex, and yet not be hard-boiled enough to be equally severe with personable woman arrayed with intent to allure, and with eyes appealing for sympathy.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE ANGRY CHILD

Deedie was a high-spirited little girl of six when she had her first outburst of anger. Until then she had been easy to handle except for an occasional spasm of naughtiness when she would storm and cry a bit and get over it. This time it was different. She was really angry.

The grass was wet and she wanted to go out and pick some flowers for the table. "That will be very nice," said her mother. "Put on your rubbers."

"I don't want any rubbers," said Deedie firmly. "O yes. You'll spoil your pretty shoes if you don't cover them," said her mother.

"I'll keep out of the west grass. It's not very deep in the path and anyway the shoes aren't so new, and I hate rubbers," and she started toward the door.

"Deedie, come back. You cannot go out in the garden without your rubbers. If you don't want to wear them, stay in."

"I won't, I won't," screamed Deedie in sudden passion. "I won't, I won't and you can kill me and I won't. I hate you, you mean, mean mother you," and down she went on the floor kicking and screaming like a mad child.

Her mother grew pale. Such a thing for a child to say to her mother. Such a state to get into simply because she had been told to do a very ordinary thing like putting on a pair of rubbers.

Grandma stooped and lifted the shrieking, kicking child and carried her upstairs to her room and laid her on the bed. Then she bathed her hands and face with cold water speaking gently now and then until the child grew quieter and lay sobbing softly, her face buried in the pillows. Gradually she slipped off into a deep sleep.

"Now don't grieve because she said that," said grandmother. "You know she was angry and did not know what she was saying. It had no meaning but that."

"But my goodness, what am I to do with her? That was awful." "When she wakes up you'll not be around and she'll ask for you first thing. I'll tell her that she hurt you and that you are waiting for her to make friends again when she tells you that she is sorry. I know she will be filled with sorrow when she remembers what she did. You see I used to get angry like that myself when I was little."

"You? Get angry and say things like that?" "O my yes! I gave mother lots of trouble, but she taught me to know better by and by. You know we all say think we do not mean when we are angry. We must just learn not to get angry and then we won't say them. Deedie will learn, too."

Anger is a poisonous emotion and when we are under its power the things we do and say are not real. But we must not allow ourselves to grow angry nor allow the children to do so either. Love drives out anger and patient training kills it altogether.

TOURING THE SHOPS WITH BONNIE JEANNE

THE TRANSFORMATION

Many a room that once seemed ordinary has undergone an almost magic transformation—simply through the addition of a beautiful shaded lamp. Under its friendly glow outlines are softened, colors that tried your utmost ingenuity are blended—and the corner that once seemed cold and unresponsive has become the "cozy corner" of the home.

There are delightful new combinations in the shades for floor lamps, library table lamps and boudoir lamps to be seen at the New England Furniture Company, 231 South Brand. Bonnie Jeanne noted that some of these rare artistic home adornments have been priced as low as $9.85. The wonderful new combinations in both colors and materials are features that must not be overlooked in making your selection of the new lamp and shade. You will find them at the New England Furniture Company to match any color scheme.

MAH JONGG

Is the game to be learned and played during the holidays. Bonnie Jeanne found imported sets of Mah Jongg, extremely reasonable in price, at the JAPAN ART & TEA CO., where the ingenuity of the Orient has been stressed to cope with American tastes. You can find gifts for everyone at Glendale's only Oriental store—one of the most popular and delightful spots to be found.

The Paris Shoppe

The brushed wool chappie coat, so cozy and true to the vogue is a gift that will be appreciated both for its beauty and its usefulness. Bonnie Jeanne found many of these at the PARIS SHOPPE, 233 North Brand, between Wilson and California. You will note the splendid offering in Luxite silk underwear, delectable night gowns, Holeproof hosiery, novelty bags and vanity cases, and a luring array of imported necklaces and earrings. JEWELRY FOR HIM

Watch chains, cuff links, belt buckles—such items of jewelry are always appreciated by the man. They will be doubly appreciated if your choice was made at the jewelry shop of W. E. HEALD, 125 West Broadway. Bonnie Jeanne found a pleasing selection in men's jewelry as well as in ladies' wrist watches.

Interesting prices on all Christmas goods will be found at the Broadway Electric Shop, 202 East Broadway.

GIVE HEALTH

Health is the greatest gift to mankind. Should you be the means of giving health to the afflicted, you would have given the best gift. Many have been restored to health and enjoyment of life through a course of chiropractic and naturopathic treatments offered by DR. M. H. HAWMAN, 221A West Broadway. Bonnie Jeanne suggests a course of these treatments.

FOR EVERY BOY

There would be at least 500 Glendale women this very minute in MARLETT BROTHERS CYCLE CO., 110 South Maryland, if they only knew that here is the Mecca for boys, big and small, for MARLETT'S is the store of good bicycles. Every boy, no matter what his age, wants a "bike," whether it is a bicycle or tricycle. The durability in every line of the "bikes" at MARLETT'S simply means that if you are out "cycle shopping" at all, you will be "cycle buying" here.

Interesting prices on all Christmas goods will be found at the Broadway Electric Shop, 202 East Broadway.

The EASY Vacuum Electric WASHER

Bonnie Jeanne knows of no gift to suggest for the housekeeper that would bring more all-around joy than the Easy vacuum electric washer. To be able to dispose of the family laundry problem with such simplicity and satisfaction is certain to make the succeeding year happier for her, whose particular standards of laundering will be met by the Easy, a machine that lives up to its name. The GOOD HOUSEKEEPING SHOP, 140 South Brand, will demonstrate the Easy at your home at your convenience. Bonnie Jeanne suggests that when you visit the GOOD HOUSEKEEPING SHOP, you inspect the 31 piece sets of dishes for $6.95, which are given free with any range over $60.

THE FINEST GIFT

If you are thinking of presenting him with a watch this Christmas, ask to see the very choice offerings in a new shipment which was received recently by ART H. DIBERN, JEWELERS, 121 North Brand. A watch is the finest gift a woman can buy—the gift that carries significance throughout the years. The new series Hamilton and Incomparable Walthams included in the shipment express elegance and good taste, and are very moderately priced.

ELECTRICAL GIFTS

If it's to be something electrical this year, you are certain to find it at the GLENDALE ELECTRIC CO., 132 North Brand. There are toasters, waffle irons, curling irons—and many household appliances, all of the latest makes, awaiting you, and they make ideal gifts.

GIVE CANDY

Is your favorite candy Christopher's, Hoffman's, or Johnson's? Bonnie Jeanne saw many attractive fancy boxes in these three makes at the BROADWAY PHARMACY, 400 East Broadway, and found them as attractive in price as in appearance. A box of dainty and delicious chocolates is always acceptable, for everyone likes candy.

SANTA CLAUS, ATTENTION

There's a new toyland in town. Bonnie Jeanne found it and you must not consider your Christmas shopping completed until you have visited the basement of FERBER'S new store, Broadway and Maryland. You will find anything and everything—many things that are new even to Santa Claus.

In every department at Ferber's exquisite gifts in women's clothing, vanities and novelties—in the men's department, gifts that a man would choose—FERBER'S is a wholly satisfactory place to spend your Christmas shopping time. Don't forget spring hats are now being shown in the millinery department—remember this when you consider spending that Christmas check.

BOULEVARD STOP

You have seen her often. No need for a boulevard stop when she crosses the streets, even in the heavy holiday traffic. They all stop to look at Mary, and upon close study, Mary appears to be a remarkable person. It may be personality, but Bonnie Jeanne reasons that it is personality plus personal charm. You see, Mary has confided to Bonnie Jeanne that she has adopted the slogan of the beauty shops—"look your best"—and, well, that tells the story, except that she finds her aids to beauty at the WALCOTT BEAUTY SHOP, 136 South Brand, where expert marcelling, water waving, shampooing, and manicuring is done. You will find a WALCOTT SHOP at 2208 East Colorado, Eagle Rock, and 166 N. Orange Grove Ave., Burbank.

DRAPERIES

Do you know what is new and considered good, now in draperies? If not, learn from one who has mastered the art of selecting the "best" the market has to offer. Bonnie Jeanne refers you to George J. Lyons, 1300 South Brand, whose artistic draperies include no "back numbers." If you desire a salesman to call and make an estimate on draperies and rods, phone Glendale 2372-J.

WHY NOT AN UMBRELLA?

The rainy season is coming and when it rains, nothing is more appreciated than a "waterproof" umbrella. Bonnie Jeanne suggests that you inspect the line of umbrellas at WILLIAM'S DRY GOODS STORE, 103 North Brand. Also, there are dainty boudoir caps, handkerchiefs, and novelties to meet the Yuletide demands.

IN GIFT LAND

Exquisite taste and moderate prices go hand in hand, Bonnie Jeanne finds to be the case at TREGEE'S GIFT AND ART SHOP, 102 East Harvard, where one will find a charming display of pictures, cards, pottery, hand painted china, an novelties—dainty and artistic, but moderately priced. Bonnie Jeanne doesn't want you to neglect visiting this shop—it has such a delightfully "gift-like" atmosphere at all times, replete with suggestions that are "just right."

THEY'RE HOMEMADE

There's a spot in Glendale where genuine candies may be had at all times, and Bonnie Jeanne hopes that there will be a beaten trail to the door of this little "sweet" haven—LEAH HOLZER'S, 113 West Broadway.

The luscious home-made chocolates at 60 and 80 cents a pound, and the absolutely essential Christmas candies—the old fashioned "mix" and ribbon candies—which are also homemade, add just the right savor to the holidays. You will want a quantity of the candy canes to hang on the Christmas tree. They are not only good to look upon, but very good to eat.

THE BOOK FRIEND

A book is one's best friend in loneliness, for when everyone has gone, and the gaiety of the holiday season is past, the book remains to afford enjoyable society. Books as gifts occupy unrivaled positions in the estimation of both young and old, and Glendale people are fortunate in having a charming little BOOK NOOK, 102 South Maryland, in which to spend the pleasant moments selecting the latest fiction, children's books, and classics.

WITH FLOWERS

This Yuletide season the home should be bedecked with wreaths and flowers, for they are the inspiration of happiness. Cut flowers and blooming potted plants of all kinds are to be had at PASEMAN'S FLORAL SHOP, 207 East Broadway. Also, you will want one of those old fashioned nosegays as the finishing touch to the package you are sending away. Bright hued everlasting flowers, with an added touch of ribbon, make up these nosegays. Evergreen wreaths should be ordered now. Phone Glendale 2000 M.

RADIO SETS

Make this a radio Christmas. A Colin B. Kennedy radio adds so much to the home, affording enjoyment that has no equal. You must see and hear the new sets, complete and ready for use, now on display at the GLENDALE ELECTRIC CO., 132 North Brand, exclusive agents.

SEVEN DAYS

Christmas greeting cards must be mailed this week. If not, they will be late in arriving, and your friends will think you have forgotten. C. R. ONEIL, STATIONER, 231 North Brand, is showing many cards expressing just the sentiment you have desired to convey. A friend will forget many of your shortcomings, but he will not forget it if you fail to send your regards at Christmas time.

WHY THEY LEAVE HOME

Many a divorce case has hinged on the selection of a piano for the home. Bonnie Jeanne heard only the other day of a man who told his wife to leave him forever, on any terms she liked, just so she took the piano with her.

So you see, great care and discretion should be used in the selection of an instrument to produce harmony in the home. Real harmony in music can be produced only on pianos of high grade and supreme tonal qualities. There is nothing quite so "jangling" to the nerves as a piano with a "tin pan" tone, but on the other hand, there is nothing more enjoyable than music produced on a piano that is a "musical" instrument. You are certain to find the piano having just the desired tone, at the PIANO EXCHANGE, 112 West Broadway. A generous allowance will be made on your old piano, as part-payment on the new.

PLEASURES PRESERVED

Christmas day is the best day in the year for initiating a kodak. If you want to preserve those most joyous memories, include an Eastman on the Christmas list. You will find any size and style at WOODSON'S PHOTOGRAPH SHOP, 214 1/2 North Brand. Here, too, you can find the charming hand colored pictures of California scenes, in art frames, and a wide selection of novelty Christmas greetings.

TIME FOR BRONZING

A tramp through the hills should enable you to gather all of the dried grasses and twigs you want for bronzing, and Bonnie Jeanne finds bronzing such an ideal pastime.

A bouquet of bronzed grasses is a thing of beauty, and it takes only a few minutes to transform the somber dead twigs into wonderful varicolored wonders. First one should go over the surface with the bronzing liquid, then dust the bronze on. There are thirty different kinds of bronzes that may be used in this way, each one beautiful and sparkling. Don't think of letting the holidays go by without bringing this magic beauty into your home. You will find all kinds of bronzes and bronzing brushes at HARRY MOORE CO., INC., 304 East Broadway. Make your choice from a complete selection and where the desired instructions will be given.

Interesting prices on all Christmas goods will be found at the Broadway Electric Shop, 202 East Broadway.

CHRISTMAS CANDY

Bonnie Jeanne saw a most tempting assortment of candies at POPE'S CONFECTIONERY, 111 South Brand, and she knows that you will find them delicious and sweet to the taste. Special Christmas boxes make suitable gifts for anyone, for everyone likes candy. A special Christmas dinner is to be served on Christmas day, Bonnie Jeanne wants you to know, and the menu will include turkey, and all of the trimmings. You will want to be there.

THE VERSATILE

Quite the cleverest bit of jewelry Bonnie Jeanne has seen for many a moon is the little Versatile watch which may be worn in three different ways—as a dinner ring, a bracelet watch, or a pendant. The face of the watch is about the size of a dime, but the works are most reliable and will keep accurate time. You may see these little wonders at ED N. RADKE'S jewelry store, 109 South Brand. As a different gift, the Versatile certainly tops the list, in Bonnie Jeanne's estimation.

SO DAINY

Was there ever a time when there were more lovely gifts for her than those shown in the Glendale shops this season? What woman would not be pleased with one of the exquisite toilet sets, including perfume, powder, and compacts—offered in charming satin brocade boxes? You will find her favorite perfumes and powders in these combinations at ROBERTS & ECHOLS DRUG CO., Brand and Broadway. Remember, the early shopper finds the best selection.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Don't forget that a housewife spends much of her time in the kitchen, and that gifts which tend to lighten the kitchen duties are always pleasing to her. The 3-cup electric percolator in the famous Lifetime aluminum, selling at the reduced price of $5.50 at the WILSON-BELL HARDWARE CO., 225 North Brand, is certain to be acceptable. Also, remember the usefulness of Pyrex glass oven-ware, for all uses. Baking dishes, casseroles, custard cups, and pie plates—all are so convenient in any kitchen, and they are gifts that last.

Modern Version of New Testament

By EDGAR J. GOODSPEED
THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE

And he used a figure, saying, "Can one blind man lead another? Will they not both fall into a hole? A pupil is not better than his teacher, but every pupil when he is fully trained will be like his teacher. Why do you keep looking at the speck in your brother's eye, and pay no attention to the beam that is in your own? How can you say to your brother, 'Brother, just let me get that speck out of your eye,' when you cannot see the beam in your own eye? You hypocrite! First get the beam out of your own eye, and then you can see to get out the speck in your brother's eye. For sound trees do not bear bad fruit, nor bad trees sound fruit. Every tree is known by its fruit. They do not pick figs off thorns, or gather grapes from brambles. A good man, out of the good he has accumulated in his heart, produces good, and a bad man, out of what he has accumulated that is bad, produces what is bad. For his mouth says only what his heart is full of. Why do you call me: 'Lord! Lord!' and not do what I tell you? If anyone comes to me and listens to this teaching of mine and acts upon it, I will show you whom he is like. He is like a man who was building a house, who dug deep and laid his foundation upon the rock, and when there was a flood the torrent burst upon that house and could not shake it, because it was well built. But the man who listens to it, and does not act upon it, is like a man who built a house on the ground without any foundation. The torrent burst upon it, and it collapsed at once, and the wreck of that house was complete."

When he had finished saying all this in the hearing of the people, he went to Capernaum.

A Roman captain had a slave whom he thought a great deal of, and the slave was sick and at the point of death. When the captain heard about Jesus, he sent some Jewish elders to him, to ask him to come and save his slave's life. And they went to Jesus and urged him strongly to do it, and said,

"He deserves to have you do this for him, for he loves our nation, and it was he who built us our synagogue."

So Jesus went with them. But when he was not far from the house, the captain sent some friends to him, to say to him,

"Master, do not take any more trouble, for I am not a suitable person to have you under my roof. That is why I do not think I was fit to come to you. But simply say the word, and have my servant cured. For I am myself under the orders of others, and I have soldiers under me, and I tell one to go, and he goes, and another to come, and he comes, and my slave to do something, and he does it."

When Jesus heard this, he was astonished at him, and turning to the crowd that was following him, he said,

"I tell you, I have not found such faith as this even in Israel."

And when the messengers went back to the house, they found the slave well.

Soon afterward he happened to go to a town called Nain, and his disciples and a great throng of people were with him. As he came up to the gate of the town, a dead man was being carried out; he was his mother's only son, and she was a widow. A crowd of the townspeople was with her. And when the Master saw her, he pitied her, and said to her,

"Do not weep."

And he went up and touched the bier, and the bearers stopped. And he said,

"Young man, I tell you, wake up!"

And the dead man sat up and began to speak, and he gave him back to his mother. And they were all overcome with awe, and they praised God, and said,

"A great prophet has appeared among us!" and "God has not forgotten his people!"

This story about him spread all over Judea and the surrounding country.

John's disciples told him of all this, and he called two of them to him, and sent them to the Master to ask him,

"Are you the one who was to come, or should we look for someone else?"

"And the men went to him and said,

"John the Baptist sent us to you to ask, 'Are you the one who was to come, or should we look for someone else?'"

Just then he cured many of diseases and ailments and foul spirits, and he gave sight to many who were blind. And he answered them,

"Go and report to John what you have seen and heard. The blind are regaining their sight, the lame can walk, the lepers are being cured and the deaf can hear, the dead are being raised and good news is being preached to the poor. And blessed is the man who finds nothing that repels him in me."

When John's messengers were gone, he began to speak to the crowds about John.

"What was it that you went out into the desert to look at? A reed swaying in the wind? Then what did you go out there to see? A man luxuriously dressed? Men who wear fine clothes and live in luxury you find in palaces. Then what did you go out there to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and far more than a prophet! This is the man of whom the Scripture says,

"Here I send my messenger on before you, He will prepare the road ahead of you!"

"I tell you, among men born of women there is none greater than John; and yet those who are of little importance in the Kingdom of God are greater than he. And all the people, even the tax-collectors, when they heard him, acknowledged the justice of God's demands, by accepting baptism from John, but the Pharisees and experts in the Law thwarted God's purpose for themselves, by refusing to be baptized by him. So what is there to which I can compare the men of this age? What are they like? They are like children sitting about in the bazaar and calling out to one another,

"We have played the flute for you, and you would not dance!

We have wailed and you would not weep!"

"For when John the Baptist came, he did not eat any bread or drink any wine, and you said, 'He has a demon!'"

Now that the Son of Man has come, he does eat and drink, and you say, 'Look at him! A glutton and a drinker, the companion of tax-collectors and irreligious people!' So wisdom is vindicated by all who are really wise."

One of the Pharisees asked him to have dinner with him, and he went to the Pharisee's house and took his place at the table. Now there was a woman in the town who was leading a sinful life, and when she learned that he was having dinner at the Pharisee's house, she got an alabaster flask of perfume, and came and stood behind him at his feet, weeping, and began to wet his feet with her tears, and she wiped them with her hair, and kissed them, and put the perfume on them. When the Pharisee who had invited him saw this, he said to himself,

"If this man were really a prophet, he would know who and what the woman is who is touching him, for she leads a wicked life."

Jesus answered him, and said to him,

"Simon, there is something I want to say to you."

He said,

"Proceed, Master."

"Two men were in debt to a money-lender. One owed him a hundred dollars and the other ten. As they could not pay him, he canceled what they owed him. Now which of them will be more attached to him?"

Simon answered, "The one whose larger debt was canceled."

And Jesus said to him, "You are right. And this woman, who has washed my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair, has done more for me than all that. For she loved me, as you do not. That is why I forgive her all her sins."

And the Pharisees and experts in the Law said to themselves, "This man is possessed by a demon, because he says such things."

But Jesus knew their thoughts, and he said to them,

"Why do you judge by appearances, and not judge by what is true? For these people praise me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me. They worship me in vain, because they teach as doctrines the precepts of men."

And he said to the crowd,

"Blessed are you who hear the word of God and keep it."

And he said to the Pharisees and experts in the Law,

"Blessed are you who despise the word of God, that you may keep your traditions of men."

And he said to the crowd,

"The word of God is not increased by your traditions."

And he said to the Pharisees and experts in the Law,

"Why do you reject the word of God, that you may keep your traditions of men?"

And he said to the crowd,

"The word of God is not increased by your traditions."

And he said to the Pharisees and experts in the Law,

"Why do you reject the word of God, that you may keep your traditions of men?"

PRESBYTERIAN C. E. INTERMEDIATES ARE HOSTS TO MANY

Glendale Presbyterian Intermediate Christian Endeavor society was host to over 140 high school folk Sunday night, December 16. Large delegations were present representing the cabinet, football teams, Boys' and Girls' leagues and the faculty.

From 5 to 6 p. m. in honor of the guests a delightful reception and get-acquainted hour was held under the able direction of Miss Mildred Sooy, the social chairman, to whom a great deal of credit is due. A beautiful selection was sung by Miss Dorothy Schenck entitled, "Beautiful Isle of My Dreams." The rooms were charmingly decorated in red and black, the high school colors, while the walls were adorned with aims and mottoes of the society. Refreshments of chocolate, wafers and sandwiches were served at 6.

The guests were then invited into the assembly room for the regular Christian Endeavor prayer meeting. Miss Mildred Thompson, chairman of the prayer meeting department, had charge of this part of the program. Daryl Parker, president of the intermediates, gave a speech of welcome to the high school. Ronald West, president G. U. H. S. student body, spoke in return for the school. Others who spoke were Miss Soper, Mr. Butterfield, Paul Edmonds, Gwen Warner, Mildred Thompson, Harold Parker, Louise Daugherty, Graham Tinning, Mildred Elliott and Howard L. Brown, the superintendent of the intermediates. Also Ivan Dow gave several cornet solos which were greatly appreciated and John T. Jenkins, a former student of the high school, rendered a delightful tenor solo and also spoke for the alumni. Miss Gertrude Heideman was the leader of the meeting.

Nearly every night the committees from the different bodies meet, so as to perfect their plans. On December 22 the entire community will assemble at the Arroyo Seco club house, where the kiddies of the district will receive gifts. All who are interested in this work can communicate with Mrs. Harrie Collins of 1349 Hazelwood avenue, phone Garvanza 6212.

Olive Phillips, popular building inspector, is back in his office again. After a two weeks' vacation spent in touring Santa Barbara, Bakersfield, San Bernardino, La Jolla, San Diego and many other places Eagle Rock looks very pleasant again to him. While in San Bernardino a severe sand storm was encountered which made him glad that he was traveling in a coupe. Car after car with the top blown to shreds was met with Mr. Bean, who was in charge during the absence of Mr. Phillips, has returned to the city and will work in the Windsor Square district again.

PIANO EXCHANGE HAS AGREEABLE NEW SELLING PLAN

According to Frank E. Brown, manager of the Piano Exchange, 112 West Broad, no home need be without a piano this Christmas, the terms offered by that firm being the lowest in years. By the new plan inaugurated by the Piano Exchange, high-grade instruments can now be bought on terms as low as $4 down and $6 a month. This is indeed an exceptionally pleasing offer, being suited to every pocketbook.

With each piano sold a bench or stool to match is given with the purchase price, and any piano ordered now on these terms will be delivered in time for a "musical Merry Christmas."

"SANTA CLAUS IN JAPAN" POSTPONED FOR TWO WEEKS

"Santa Claus in Japan," which was to have been given by the pupils of the Woods School of Klever Kiddies on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week has been postponed for two weeks. This production, which combines singing, dancing and acting, will be given on January 4 and 5 in the auditorium of the Broadway school. The costumes to be worn by the children are very unique, that they have been specially hand-painted for the occasion.

TWO MORE COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN APPOINTED

At a meeting of the executive board of Glendale Community Services, held Monday at the Egyptian Village cafe, A. L. Baird appointed two additional chairmen of committees, V. M. Hollister, chairman of music; Mrs. Max Green, chairman of dramatics. Reports were made on progress being made on the community Christmas celebration arrangements. Through the courtesy of Dr. H. R. Harrower, 5000 invitations are being distributed through the mails and 5000 through the schools, for the Christmas play, "Eager Heart," also to be presented under the direction of Glendale Community Service at the new high school auditorium on Friday night of this week.

The board also voted to inaugurate regular community sings twice a month, beginning sometime in January.

CANADIAN CLUB WILL HAVE CHRISTMAS DANCE

Members of Glendale's Canadian club, who are a very social bunch, will enjoy a Christmas dance at K. P. hall on Thursday evening. It will be an invitation affair, limited to members and their guests. The Kelly Shrine orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music, and a gay time is certain to reward all who attend. This affair is being given by the younger members of the club with Al Western as general manager. The club's Christmas party for the children of members will be given Monday evening, December 24, in K. P. hall at 7 o'clock, when there will be a Christmas tree and gifts will be distributed.

HUMANE SOCIETY MEETS THURSDAY TO REORGANIZE

The Humane society will hold a meeting at the city hall at 8 o'clock on Thursday, December 20, for the purpose of reorganization, election of officers and adoption of constitution and by-laws.

HI SCHOOL TEACHERS' CLUB HAS FINE TURKEY DINNER

A very jolly party was the Christmas dinner of the High School Teachers' club served to more than 100 members and guests in the cafeteria of the school Monday evening, with President Normal Hayward presiding and encouraging the fun.

It was a turkey dinner and no pains were spared by Misses Hairgrove and Helmer, who had charge of arrangements, to make it a function worthy the club and the occasion. Christmas greenery made gay the tables and Christmas "crackers" constituted the favors.

Following the dinner an adjournment was taken to the new high school buildings, a pilgrimage which had to be made by candle light as the electric juice has not as yet been turned on in any portion of the plant except the auditorium.

On returning to the cafeteria Santa Claus in the person of Walter Gorman took charge of the Christmas tree and distributed the gifts. Each member had brought a nonsense present for some one else and had written a rhyme to accompany it. The program called for the reading of the rhymes which evoked a great deal of hilarity. No other entertainment was provided or needed but the evening was a great social success.

CHORAL CLUB AND GUESTS ENJOY FINE REHEARSAL

Glendale's Choral club and its guests had a much enjoyed rehearsal Monday night at the High school over which Mrs. Alexander Mitchell presided. The Oratorio section of the Glendale Music club was a special guest and was well represented.

Work of the evening included "The Wedding Feast of Hiram" (Cotteridge Taylor), "The Hallelujah Chorus," and "Christmas Carols." In place of the next rehearsal the club will participate in the Community Christmas program to be given at 7 p. m. Christmas Eve in the High school grounds on Harvard and Louise.

Clifford Riggs of the Glendale Presbyterian choir was the soloist of the evening and sang very beautifully a couple of bass numbers.

SON BORN TO MR. AND MRS. W. D. KEITH OF KENILWORTH

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Keith of 1012 North Kenilworth are the proud parents of a seven-pound boy, born yesterday at the Glendale Sanitarium hospital. Donald Frederick is the name of this latest arrival to Glendale. Mrs. Keith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Griggs, 319 West Wilson avenue. Both mother and child are doing nicely.

FATHERS' NIGHT AT ACACIA AVE. SCHOOL

Acacia Avenue P.T. A. fathers' night was held on Monday in the auditorium of the Glendale Avenue Intermediate school. Mrs. L. Torrey, president of the association, extended greetings to the fathers. C. R. Rettberg, secretary of the Broadway Fathers' auxiliary, gave a talk on "How to Organize an Auxiliary." The program for the evening also included music by the Acacia Avenue school orchestra, which made its first public appearance; violin solo by Philip Neilson; talk by Mr. Ferguson, president of the Broadway Fathers' auxiliary, on "Reasons Why Fathers Should Organize an Auxiliary"; "Chimes Dance," by Virginia Phelps, Gertrude Goodhue and Shirley Bennett; songs by boys of the fifth and sixth grades, "Silent Night" and "Glendale Song"; "Rose Dance" by Nellie Alshire; talk by Richardson D. White.

It was decided that the fathers would meet at the school on January 5 to consider the organization of an auxiliary. At the close of the meeting a social hour was held and refreshments served.

CHRISTMAS HIGH JINKS AT ELKS CLUB LAST NIGHT

Rull of overflowing was the Glendale Elks' clubhouse Monday night for the annual Christmas high jinks with about 600 members and guests present. A delegation of forty came from Alhambra, and as many more visitors represented various other lodges of Southern California. The varied program included boxing bouts arranged by Harry McCartney, and secured through Wadsworth, the match maker of the Vernon club. Other entertainment for which Ray Galvin was responsible consisted of vaudeville numbers by Los Angeles talent.

Following the program buffet refreshments were served and the merriment lasted until after midnight.

Installation of Sir Wm. W. Worley, generalissimo; Sir J. Hartley Taylor, captain general; Sir Sidney S. Gilhuly, senior warden; and Sir Wm. N. McMillan, junior warden, was next in order, after which they were invested with their jewels of office.

Mrs. Porter M. Custer, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Baines, sang "Ave Maria" (Schubert), with cello obligato by Mr. Baines, and "Holy City" (Sullivan) with cello and violin obligato. The following officers were then installed and invested with their jewels of office: Sir Oscar E. Von Oven, prelate; Sir Frank H. Vesper, treasurer; Sir Charles C. Stephenson, second guard; Sir Francis J. W. Henry, first guard; Sir Riley Lyons, sentinel.

Little Miss Blossom Moore, who is known as the daughter of the Commandery, gave a very charming dance called "Balloon Dance," to the applause for which she responded with an encore. Past Commanders Peckham, Jones, Campbell, Moore and Crofton had "framed" a humorous by-play, which for a time looked serious for the retiring Commander Roy V. Hogue, before he was presented with the customary jewel by Past Commander Mattison B. Jones on behalf of Glendale Commandery.

Mr. Grumling gave a short talk, during which he introduced his mother. He also introduced Benjamin F. Pearson, manager of the Southern California Edison company, who gave a short talk, and also J. W. Wilson, commander of Hollywood Commandery No. 56. The latter extended a cordial invitation to Glendale Commandery to be present at Hollywood Masonic Temple on Friday night, December 28, when installation of officers for Hollywood Commandery and also of the Hollywood chapter of De Molay will be held.

Mr. Grumling announced that Glendale Commandery will hold its customary Christmas observance on Christmas morning, beginning at 9 o'clock. The Knights Templar throughout the world are to hold this ceremony at the same time. He also suggested that the Sir Knights send Christmas greetings to Mrs. Ravenscroft at San Jose.

The evening's program closed with a reading by Miss Kathryn Garnett, "The Silver Wedding," the encore number being "Bill's in Trouble," and community singing of "America" and "Auld Lang Syne," led by Francis J. W. Henry.

The committees in charge of the various arrangements included: Decoration, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rattray, Wm. McMillan and S. S. Gilhuly; program chairman, F. J. W. Henry; dinner, Robert M. Grumling, Roy V. Hogue and Wm. McMillan. The same decorations used for the Eastern Star installation were used and included hanging baskets of old fashioned flowers, greenery, ferns and polkaeas.

Miss Claudia McNeill entertained Monday evening with a pre-Christmas party. A number of friends from Los Angeles attended. The enjoyable affair was held at the McNeill residence north of Montrose.

Miss Mildred Roach, who resides on Del Mar avenue, is recovering from a two weeks' seige of acute indigestion. Her condition was for a time quite serious.

By FRANCIS W. READ

Normal C. Hayhurst, coach of the Glendale high school football team, received another feather in his cap yesterday when two members of his championship aggregation were chosen on the mythical all-southern football team. It was indeed a fitting climax to a successful football season to have two men, admittedly the two best men on the team, selected.

One day last September, it must have been about the sixth or seventh of the month, the writer dropped around to the high school gymnasium to talk to Hayhurst about the chances of the football team this season and get a little advance "dope." The Glendale coach was busy with his work as athletic playground summer director, but took time to tell about prospects for the coming season. Very optimistic he seemed, in his first public statement. He told us that he had a team that should clean up on the Central league championship and get into the playoffs. Of course it was natural to register a little doubt, in the fact of the comparatively poor showing the Dynamiters made in 1922, but when Hayhurst had completed enumerating the reasons for his belief we were convinced that he was right. Very few men were lost from the previous year, and a number of new men were on hand. Yes, prospects looked very bright.

By a reference to the back files of the Press we find that it was on the twelfth day of September that the Dynamiters donned their suits and went through their initial workout under the direction of Captain Ronald West. Hayhurst told them to go easy, and allowed them to throw the ball around a little and just loosen up their joints. Such an enthusiastic bunch of players it was. They believed from the start that they were a championship aggregation, but it was too early in the season to tell how they stacked up with the others. Every afternoon for a couple of weeks they cavorted around the field and the writer watched them with interest. Then in a short while Coach Hayhurst announced a scrimmage with Burbank. There was no score kept but it was easily seen that the locals had real class. They took on Van Nuys in the first practice game and walloped them unmercifully. Next they defeated Oxnard and Fillmore, and after them Santa Barbara. Franklin, Hollywood and Pasadena fell to the Dynamiters in the last of the practice games. Then came the Central league schedule. The Dynamiters cleaned up on South Pasadena, Alhambra, Citrus, Monrovia and walloped the undefeated Covina eleven in the championship game.

league schedule the Dynamiters entered the playoffs for the Southern California title. Up to that time they had not been scored upon. In a hard fought game they handed the Saints a 15 to 10 defeat, coming from behind in the final period. Santa Monica fell easily by a 27 to 0 score in the second game of the playoffs, and the Dynamiters earned the right to meet Long Beach for the title of the southland. In the final game they fell to Long Beach by a 15 to 8 score, and outplayed the Jackrabbits in all but the first six minutes, when an epidemic of stage fright cost them the game. Here the Dynamiters put up the gamiest fight ever seen in the southland.

Truly a great season, was it not? Fifteen games were played, with but one defeat, and that in the final contest. And all this was done with one of the lightest teams in the south. The Dynamiters weighed but 151 pounds. And then to cap the climax, two men of this outfit were selected on the all-south eleven.

SAGEHEN CASABA ARTISTS TAKE ON THE ALUMNI

Apparently undismayed by the way teams have been treating the conference fives, Coach Carl Schott's Pomona college quintet takes on an alumni team at Claremont this evening. The Sageheens already have one win to their credit, having trimmed the Riverside Junior college outfit 14 to 9 last week. However, the opposition they will encounter tonight is much stronger and the going will undoubtedly be rougher.

Coach Schott's men will go up against a group of men, all of whom played on Sagehen varsities in years gone by. George Pooley and Braven Dyer will play the forward berths, both are former basketball letter men and sufficiently young to make things interesting for the collegians. Either Macy Chambers or Bob Judy will play center, with Chauncey Voorhees, Joe Caldwell and Brainerd Dyer available for the guards. All of these gents with the exception of Caldwell, who played only one season, are two-year men in the court sport.

Coach Caddy Work's Southern Branch team had a game scheduled with the Los Angeles High school outfit for this afternoon, but Work's called it off. He wants his boys working together better before they take on any outside opposition.

The defeats suffered by Caltech and Whittier rather raises the stock of the Branch five, although there is little to go on until the Cubs have played a game. Coach Works has only three letter men, whereas the Engineers have six and Coach Perry at Whittier is blessed with no less than eight. LaVerne is good, however, and the Poets may not be as bad off as the score would indicate. Also they have been out only one week.

U. S. C.-NEBRASKA GAME IS STILL UNCERTAIN

TROJAN GRID

SCHEDULE FOR 1924

October 4—Pomona at Coliseum.	October 11—Caltech at Coliseum.
October 15—Oregon Aggies, Portland.	November 1—California at Berkeley.
November 8—Stanford at Palo Alto.	November 15—Open (Montana date relinquished in order that Stanford might meet Montana).
November 22—Idaho at Coliseum.	November 29—Nebraska at Coliseum.

Arrangements for the proposed home and home games between the University of Nebraska and the University of Southern California have not been completed at this writing. However, Graduate Manager Gwynn Wilson still holds out hope that the Cornhuskers will wear their moleskins in the Los Angeles Coliseum next November.

The situation at Lincoln is similar to U. S. C.'s problem for next fall and the shoe seems to pinch on the same foot of both the Trojan and the Nebraska. Coach Henderson is without a big at home game for next year, and according to a wire received by Whittier yesterday, the University of Nebraska is in the same plight.

Coach Henderson wants to meet the Cornhuskers in Los Angeles next fall. It would be next to impossible to meet them in the east with the present difficult Pacific coast conference program to carry out. With the California game being played up in Strawberry canyon next fall U. S. C. is minus any big drawing card for the home lot and the invasion of the boys from Lincoln would just about pack the Coliseum and solve the problem. In that case Elmer C. would load his footballers onto a rattler the following year and take on Nebraska in their own back yard.

Stanford is itching for a crack at the University of Montana and

LEGION QUINTET TO MEET L. A. OUTFIT

Basketball fans of Glendale will have a chance to see a first-class game of the mision sport Thursday evening when the Glendale American Legion casaba team plays the Metropolitan post of Los Angeles in the local high school gymnasium.

The Glendale Legion hoopers are considered one of the fastest aggregations in the American Legion basketball league. Last Thursday night they beat the Victory team of the first game and showed considerable strength. The team has been practicing consistently, according to Manager Whelan, and will be in first class condition to meet the Los Angeles outfit Thursday night.

The lineup of the team is as follows: W. Brown, C. E. Leggett and A. G. Whelan, forwards; W. E. Beach and W. Bunker, centers; W. E. Hibbert, Nelson, Ed Austin and Harry Painter, guards; William A. Austin, coach.

If the arrangements to bring the Lincoln men west are completed Henderson would relinquish his claim to the right to play Montana and give the Redshirts the opportunity to entertain them.

The University of Nebraska this season had one of the finest aggregations of gridiron players ever herded together in the middle west, or, for that matter, any part of the country. The Cornhuskers were the only team to defeat Knute Rockne's great Notre Dame squad that ran wild along the Atlantic, tramping on the best the far east had to offer. Nebraska will be just as imposing and threatening next fall. Coach Elmer Henderson of U. S. C. is more than anxious to take on the Huskers or any other formidable eastern eleven, as he has faith in the Trojans of 1924. The closing of a deal that will promote a home affair between Nebraska and U. S. C. will be a big achievement for the Cardinal and Gold.

NEWEST WORK BASKETS

The newest of work baskets is made of black wicker and leather and looks like a low seat. When the top is opened a completely equipped sewing basket is revealed. These baskets come in two sizes.

TROJAN HOOPSTERS LOOK GOOD IN WORKOUTS

With the return of John Hawkins, last year's center, to help bolster Les Turner's aggregation of Trojan varsity basketballers, things begin to look brighter in the Casaba regions at U. S. C. Hawkins is in great shape after a brilliant season on the gridiron. As "Cot" Rice and Bill Ross are having it out for the center job, Turner may shift Hawkins to guard where it is thought that he will fill in to advantage.

All are in good shape with the exceptions of Ed Wingarde, last year's Frosh star and Tom Hunter. Wingarde hurt his shoulder in an inter-fraternity game recently and will be out for several days. Hunter hurt the ligaments in his left knee and is limping slightly.

Tomorrow evening the Goodyear Plant squad will tangle with the varsity under the same conditions as the game mentioned.

The first of the Conference games is with California at Berkeley on January 18 and 19. On January 25 and 26, the Trojans meet Stanford on their stamping grounds. On February 12 and 13 the Golden Bears will visit U. S. C. at Los Angeles, and the Cardinals of Stanford will do the same on February 19 and 20. Arizona will also be played some time during February, says Green.

Turner has two temporary squads at work on passing and pivoting as well as the practice at shooting baskets. In his first group are Boyer, Campbell, Rice, Solter, Hawkins, Hunter, Ross, Dorsey, Wingarde and Gerphede. For the second squad are Nason, Long, McCrislan, Augustine and Tuma.

"It takes ten men to make a basketball squad," said Turner, recently at practice. "If a team only has five men that know basketball and can play it, only luck will pull them through. What I want is a squad of at least ten men that can play and which will assure me that if somebody has to come out of the game, there will be someone who can take his place."

TWO DYNAMITERS ARE ON THE ALL-SOUTH ELEVEN

ALL-SOUTHERN PREP TEAM

Cody, Poly High.....Right guard
Merrill, Santa Monica.....Right tackle
Horri, Glendale.....Right end
Janicki, Los Angeles.....Quarterback
Drury, Long Beach.....Right halfback
Hill, Long Beach (C).....Left halfback
H. Elliott, Glendale.....Fullback

Two members of the Glendale High school football squad, Howard Elliot and Missaro Horri, were chosen on the All-Southern Prep eleven selected by Norman Hartford, Los Angeles sport critic. Horri was given the right wing position, with Elliot at fullback.

The All-Southern Prep football team selected by Norman Hartford is representative enough of the various teams entered in the race. Two men from Manual Arts, two from Glendale, three from Long Beach and one each from Poly, Los Angeles, Lincoln and Santa Monica complete the selection. On the whole, it seems that the team is as fair a one as could be picked in the prep ranks this season.

Glendale fans will wonder why more of the Glendale linesmen than Horri were not chosen. The answer is that the all-star teams are picked by the individual work of the players rather than the manner in which the team plays together. The Glendale line and the backfield as well worked together in perfect co-ordination, so that the individual starting of most of the players was lost. There was only one more man previously mentioned on the Glendale team for an All-Southern berth, and that was Walton. An all-Central League team would, however, be a different thing. Coach Hayhurst said a while ago that for an all Central League team he would take his entire Glendale squad.

In commenting on the reasons for choosing his All-Star team, Hartford made the following remarks: "Picking 11 boys out of several thousand who made football history in the Southland this year is no easy task, and to find the best players, judging upon sportsmanship, team work and, last of all, individual playing of the athlete, is almost an impossibility.

"Striff, speedy Lincoln end, gets the call on that position over a field of fast competitors. Throughout the City league season Striff played like a demon, fighting relentlessly and playing brilliantly on both the offensive and defensive.

"Milt Redfern did some fine punting and performed in all-Southern California style for Sid Foster's Manual Arts' eleven during the City league season, while Penn of Long Beach was a hero throughout the season on the line for the Jackrabbits.

"Steyer, the husky Manual star, was selected for the center berth. His position was one of the hardest to choose, but the three 'wise men' decided in favor of the Purple and White performer.

"Cody of Poly High school gets the right guard job. Cody played a game all season and will captain the 1924 Mechanics.

"When Merrill of the 'Dutch' Shatt's Santa Monica High squad was suggested as right tackle the 'wise men' sung out 'aye' in unison. Merrill was beyond doubt one of the greatest prep tacklers in Southern ranks this year. In the Glendale game we are not exaggerating much when we say he was the whole Santa Monica team. When the Elliotts, Walton and Ryan got by the rest of the players it was always Merrill who nailed them.

"Horri, the little Japanese boy who plays right end for Glendale, was chosen for that position. His work throughout the season was nothing less than phenomenal, and he won the praise of no less a football authority than Elmer Henderson, coach of U. S. C.

"Janicki, Los Angeles High quarterback, was named signal caller. Drury and Hill of Long Beach were selected as halfbacks. Little dispute should arise concerning the latter two selections. And Howard Elliot, of course, the Glendale 'triple threat,' fullback, was given his regular position."

"Now, Harold," said the teacher, "can you tell me what a 'deadlock' is?"

"Yes, m'am," replied the observant youngster. "A deadlock is what Aunt Hazel's back hair is made of."

A pauper gets more real enjoyment out of life than a miser does.

AT THE THEATERS

ANNA Q. NILSSON'S ACTING IN 'PONJOLA' IS MASTERPIECE

A refined girl, a victim of circumstances, decides that the world is not for women but for men only. Masquerading as a man she seeks to hide herself in Africa where she is thrown into a maelstrom of excitement, adventure and romance.

This briefly is the theme of "Ponjola," which comes for the last times today to the Gateway theatre. "Ponjola" is a vivid picturization of Cynthia Stockley's famous masterpiece of South African gold field life, which proved a sensation in book form and no less of a sensation as a screen drama.

It tells the story of an English noblewoman who is disguised as a man, fights the curse of "Ponjola," the soul destroying drink of the gold miners; fights for the man she loves and willingly offers to sacrifice herself by standing trial for a murder which the man commits.

In the role of "Desmond," the girl, Anna Q. Nilsson, will be seen in a part which critics declare is the greatest role of her whole stage or screen career. James Kirkwood enacts the part of the man.

Other popular screen favorites in the picture are Tully Marshall, Ruth Clifford, Joseph Kilgour, Claire Du Brey, Claire McDowell, and Bernard Randall.

MISS ELDRIDGE'S WALK DISTINCTIVE IN THIS FILM PLAY

Florence Eldridge, feminine lead opposite Ernest Truex in the William Fox special, "Six Cylinder Love," now playing at the Glendale theatre, says: "a walk is an expression of character, whether the character be on the stage, screen, or in private life."

It is interesting to note that Miss Eldridge was given the role of the "vamping wife" in this feature not only for her histrionic talents, but also because of her walk.

Miss Eldridge has studied dancing, a means to comprehending the significance of a walk than which there is no better. As the ingenue in "Six Cylinder Love," the little player has a light mincing walk, which conclusively denotes the type she delineates.

"Six Cylinder Love" is a picture everybody will enjoy for it depicts a story representative of many a home today and includes in the cast, headed by Ernest Truex and Florence Eldridge, Maud Hill, Marjorie Milton, Ann McKittrick, Donald Meek, Thomas Mitchell, Harold Mann, Ralph Sipperly, Berton Churchill, France Tweed and Grace Gordon.

MANY THRILLS IN "UNSEEING EYES" AT THE T. D. & L.

What in many respects is the most thrilling motion picture ever woven around life in the north woods is that made from Arthur Stringer's story, which will be shown at the T. D. & L. theatre, beginning tomorrow.

Three quarters of the film were made in the open and the company was on location around Banff and Lake Louise for at least six weeks. Scenes were also "shot" in and near Quebec and Montreal. A thrilling airplane dash over the ice-covered terrain and a magnificent reproduction of a mid-winter carnival are highspots in the making of "Unseeing Eyes."

Lionel Barrymore and Seena Owen, are featured in the new Cosmopolitan picture.

Others in the cast are Gustav von Seyffertitz, Louis Wolheim, Paul Panzer, Walter Miller, Dan Red Eagle, Francis Red Eagle, Louis Deer, Jack Johnston and Albert James.

"You are an educated man," said the judge, "but this is a disgraceful crime you have been found guilty of. Have you anything to say before sentence is passed?"

"Only this, my lord," replied the prisoner. "Whatever the sentence may be, for heaven's sake don't end it with a preposition."

THE GIFTS

JAMES W. FOLEY

You have gotten from life a score of things
Yes, a hundred or maybe more;
And every day that you live life brings
Your treasures o'er and o'er.
You have gotten health and beauty and friends,
And comfort and nothing you lack,
You have gotten from life joys without end,
But what have you given back?

Life is a treasure house rich and vast,
And life is a giver of gifts;
Of beauty and glory from first to last,
Of gladness the soul that lifts,
Of the flowers that blow and the sunset glow,
Of treasures so many and rife
You cannot count them or list or know,
But what have you given to life?

Yes, life has given you many things,
And more as the days go by.
The tree that shades and the bird that sings,
And the turf and the sea and sky,
Love and friendship and many a smile,
And help and courage in strife,
But now sit down and think awhile:
What have you given to life?

ROYAL STOCK CO. TO PLAY "SMILIN' THROUGH" AGAIN

RODNEY HILDEBRAND

The Royal Stock company, which made such a favorable impression Saturday night at the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium, will repeat "Smilin' Through," Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week with a special matinee Saturday afternoon at 2:30 and all who enjoy a beautiful play, well acted, should not miss this classic.

This clever company of players is a real acquisition to Glendale's theatrical circles and few western cities can boast a company playing the spoken drama.

The pretty scenery and costumes left nothing to be desired and the demand for reserved seats proves that Glendale knows a real show.

Seats are on sale at Mathews' Confectionery, corner Orange and Broadway.

GLENDALE PHONE EXCHANGE ADDS NEW EQUIPMENT

At the Glendale telephone exchange three new boards were added in the operating room Monday but they will not be connected up and ready for use under 60 days. Shortly after the first of January the building of a 30-foot extension to the present structure will be undertaken. This will be three stories in height and will materially relieve congestion in all departments when completed. At the present time the operators are placed as close together as they can sit.

The fact that in adding new trunk lines and extensions the telephone company has been obliged to change numbers, also that numbers have been altered by reason of the change of residence of many patrons has been a great tax on the service, according to Manager Fred Deal, and also a tax upon the patience of patrons, because where such changes have been made calls for the old number have to be referred to the supervisors, who have been obliged to relieve and save the time of the operators. Mr. Deal says that when in 1921 he made a survey of the Glendale telephone field with a view to estimating the probable needs of the city in telephone service in 1927, he figured that the population on the date last mentioned would be 50,000. He found few who would sustain his prediction. From his present knowledge of conditions he is inclined to hazard a guess that the present population is between 40,000 and 45,000.

Mr. Deal promises a new Glendale telephone book as a New Year's gift to subscribers soon after the first of January, and another one about the first of March. The days of a free Los Angeles book are past, he says, and hereafter only those who have a big bill of telephone tolls or who are willing to pay 50 cents for the volume will receive it. In the last one, 17,000 changes were made at one fell swoop, he says, and 10,000 more remain to be made in the reorganization of the service.
